Tips To Purify Your Home of Dirty Sediment Water

There are many brand filters out there touting how effective their water filtrations are. BUT they hardly mention the full approach to clean water for homes.

SAFE TO DRINK?

This guide will show you how to purge your home of sediments and maintaining water quality.

TIP 1 Hire a Whole House Pipe Cleaning Service

- For a home that has not had it's water pipe cleaned. There's likely sediment built up over many years.
- Hiring a pipe cleaning service will dislodge and remove built up sediments in the pipes.
- This can help increase water pressure and remove stuck sediments.

TIP 2 Installing an Outdoor House Water Filter

- The Outdoor filter will serve as the main the filter before water enters home.
- Use HDPE (High Density Polyethylene) piping as it is more weather resistant.
- Auto flushing valve (AFV) timers are also available for automatic backwash.
- I highly recommend membrane filters as it has the lowest filtration size. 0.01 micron.

TIP 3 Water Purifier for Drinking

- This is the water purifier you will drink from or use for cooking.
- You can choose either a tank or tankless model. Depending on your kitchen space.
- Usually a 3 or 4 filter step.
- Sediment, Pre-Carbon,UF Membrane & Post-Carbon

TIP 4 20-inch Sediment Filter for Laundry Machines

- Save your precious whites.
- It's a recommended to install a sediment filter that connects your washing machine and water tap.
- This reduces the risk of sediment clothes stain.
- 1 micron size filtrations is recommended

TIP 5 Outdoor Water Tank Storage Cleaning

- If you have a water tank storage for your home. Always arranged a scheduled maintenance at least once a year.
- Use stainless steel storage to reduce chance of bacterial and algae growth.

TIP 6 Steam Clean Drinking Water Purifier Tank

- If you plan to DIY. Get a steam spray device to sterilize the water tank and tab.
- Should be done at least every 6 months to maintain hygiene.
- Done at the same time filter is changed.

With the guide above, your home will be freed of sediments and water pressure is restored.
